Recognition for our officers and staff at the Local Policing Directorate Awards (LPD) held at Force Headquarters recently

Amazing examples of compassion, team work, bravery and professionalism were recognised at the Local Policing Directorate Chief Superintendent's Award Ceremony at force headquarters on Friday (14 April). More than 120 officers and staff were presented with 35 awards for Outstanding Work and Service Excellence including giving live saving first aid and CPR, helping people intent on taking their own lives, tackling County Lines and drug related crime and disorder, being exceptional neighbourhood officers and resolving complex issues on neighbourhoods.

The LPD Awards recognise excellent work by neighbourhood and response officers. They were presented by Chief Superintendent Jonny Starbuck and Superintendent Aimee Ramm. Officers and Police staff from Melton Mowbray were among the recipients.

PC Matt Carmichael and PC Dan Daley were commended for saving the life of a young man who had gone missing after harming himself. The officer's investigation took them to a railway station in Lincolnshire where they stopped him trying to scale a fence which had 30-foot drop onto a live railway line on the other side. Despite resisting their attempts to save him, Dan and Matt were able to pull him to safety, get swift lifesaving first aid and prevent a possible serious or fatal accident on the train track. While trying to restrain him, two high-speed trains passed along the track. PC Daley is shown in the photograph (right) receiving his award from Ch Supt Starbuck, unfortunately PC Carmichael was unable to attend the evening but has since received his commendation.

A team including officers, staff, and investigators from a specialist team, received a team award for outstanding work with their involvement in responding to and investigating a sexual assault that occurred on a street in Melton

Mowbray in January 2021. Quick actions led to the victim receiving the best possible care and the suspect being identified and located quickly. The offender was found guilty at Crown Court and was given a 13 year prison sentence.

Our officers have been busy in the borough

Recently PC Phoebe Mack and PC Stu Wallace came across a van which had been driven straight across a T-Junction and came to rest in a hedge. The driver failed a roadside breath test blowing 137. He was arrested and charged.

Melton town north newest recruit

In our last newsletter we mentioned that PC Josh Conduit was joining the neighbourhood team, at the time we had no photo. However always keen to put a face to the name here is PC Josh Conduit. He is pictured with the Leicestershire and Rutland Blood Bikes – a great charity serving our community in their free time.

Josh is keen to get to know you so please, if you see him out on his beat of Melton town north stop and have a chat.
